Va. Warehouses Sign Contracts

Twenty Eight Warehouses Out of Thirty-Five Sign Up Fire-Year Contracts; No Warehouseman Wanted on These Contracts Who Does Not Think It Fair; Sapiro Speaks to Meeting; Officials Confer With Judge Bingham of Kentucky.

SOUTH BOSTON, Va., April 5.—(Special to Southerner).—Twenty-eight out of thirty-five bright and dark tobacco markets in Virginia have signed up with the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association for the next five years.

A large majority of the Virginia warehousemen who met in South Boston, representing nearly every tobacco market of importance in Virginia signed the contract to lease or sell their properties to the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association today. This meeting of the warehousemen and directors of the marketing association was attended by a large group of tobacco farmers and buyers which completely filled the local theatre. It was notable for the spirit of fair play and cooperation emphasized in a statement by Aaron Sapiro, attorney for the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, who said "We don't want any warehouseman to sign any contract unless he sees it is fair." Mr. Sapiro, who is also attorney for the successful Burley Growers Marketing Association of Kentucky, stated that the contract was drawn up with the intention of giving absolute fairness to both farmers and warehousemen, and said:

"The men who run the warehouses now are in great measure the men whom we shall want to run the warehouses for the association."

Commenting on the reluctance of certain Danville warehousemen to cooperate with the association, Mr. Sapiro stated that this news was welcome, because the proffer of other plants in Danville for use by the association and the plan of building a warehouse for the growers on the outskirts of Danville relieves them of the problem of considering the purchase or lease of more property than they need in that city.

President Norwood of the marketing association, Director T. C. Watkins, manager of warehouses, Chairman J. Y. Joyner and N. H. Williams of the committee on warehouses, and M. O. Wilson, secretary of the association, were present to represent the organized tobacco growers.

Richard R. Paterson, formerly manager of the leaf department of the American Tobacco Company, now manager of the leaf department of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, and C. E. Cheatham, assistant manager of the association, now left for a conference with Judge Robert Bingham of Louisville, Ky., and other officials of the successful marketing association of the burley growers before taking up the task of handling a majority of the Virginia-Carolina crop now under contract with the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association.
